

IN THE CLAIMS

Please amend claims 1-3 by rewriting same to read as follows and cancel claim 4, without prejudice or disclaimer.

---

--1. (Twice Amended) A television receiver comprising:

a connection interface for connection to an external mail server;

electronic mail means having an electronic mail function of sending and receiving electronic mail via said connection interface;

display means for displaying a television picture;

a random access memory;

a central processing unit for downloading a plurality of electronic mail from the mail server and storing the downloaded electronic mail in the random access memory;

B' a display memory, wherein the central processing unit reads out from the random access memory only the name of the sender and the subject of each of the electronic mail for storage in the display memory; and superimposing means for superimposing the name of the sender and the subject of the electronic mail read out from said display memory on a television picture for display on said display, wherein said central processing unit controls an operation of said superimposing means, so that the name of the sender and the title are scrolled for each successive electronic mail on said display means.